And the rails lead to America! Manuel Barhokes on what's leading desperate 1000s to claim to hope! People desperate to reach the United States cling to this freight train! A dangerous 1200 mile trip north thru Mexico! They call the train LAESTIA, the Beast! VIRON SOLATIS fell off the Beast in 2009 when he left Guatemala hoping to work in the US! He lost a leg! "I was running away from robbers on the train" he says. Gangs extort and kidnapped 1000s of riders each year! SOLATIS recovered at this shelter for injured migrants run by a charity in TAPACHULA Mexico! He's decided to stay and help others! "I warn people to think hard about leaving their countries" he says! But a worker told us this year, the shelter has housed more than a 100 people a month, twice as many as last year with few additional resources! "So there is just one room NOMASONAL for medical treatment but without meal!" Across town this children's shelter is full! It's run by REMON BERUDOGO. They come here hoping for a safe place, he said! Most are from Honduras which has the highest murder rate in the world! Many crossed the poorest Mexico Guatemalan border on rafts! "Immigrant children are fleeing exploitation and misery, he says! That's exactly what they find on this side too! He says minors who stopped here to make money for the rest of the trip often become victims of child labor or sexual abuse! For young and old, the risks of the journey are daunting, but the draw north is stronger! Manual BARhokes, CBS news, NAPACHULA, Mexico!
