JFKN.COM

Tonight, New Year's inferno. A skyscraper hotel up in flames raining down fiery debris while one of the world's biggest firework shows goes on as planned. Nightly News begins right now. This is NBC Nightly News with Lester Holt substituting tonight Kate Snow.

Good evening, the pictures were alarming. A towering hotel in Dubai engulfed in flames. Debris raining down on the streets below. The fire broke out just a couple of hours before huge celebrations were planned to ring in the New Year. Despite the inferno, only minor injuries have been reported so far. And at midnight, the city went on with a record breaking fireworks display creating a surreal scene. This is the CBS news with Scot Pelly.

Good evening, Scot is off tonight. I am Elian Kihano. There is celebration, but also deep concern in cities around the world as we usher in 2016. A massive fire broke out in a high rise hotel in Dubai, hours before the midnight fireworks which went on as scheduled. Police in Munich in Germany evacuated 2 train stations after receiving what they call a serious imminent threat of a terror attack. Brussels cancelled its party as arrests were made in a terror plot. Security is tighter than ever in New York's Time Square which is jammed with a million people.

This is ABC World News Tonight with David Mur. And good evening, great to have you with us on this New Year's Eve. I am Tom Yamas in for David tonight. The countdown to New Years is on across America tonight. The pictures coming in as crowd of one million builds in Time Square. 1000s of NYC police officers, the most ever on high alert to keep everyone safe. And tonight, we are learning of a terror arrest in New York. An alleged ISIS supporter accused of plotting a New Year's attack. But we begin with incredible images from overseas. Take a look at that. A massive high rise inferno in Dubai erupting hours before the world famous fireworks display. ABC's Alex Morequa with the news coming in at this hour.

A towering inferno. Tonight one of Dubai's most famous luxury hotels consumed by flames. "Yes, I can see a lot of debris coming from the building and it's getting bigger and bigger." The fire started on the 20th floor of the 63 story hotel and was visible from all around. The roar of the fire heard in video shot by eyewitnesses. It was just under 3 hours before Dubai was to hold its famous New Year's fireworks show starting nearby at the world's tallest building.
