Third, we're gonna rewrite the rules and crackdown on companies that ship jobs overseas and profits to go with them. Let's reward the companies that share profits with their employees instead. And we are going to defend and strengthen the tough reforms, president Obama put in place on the financial industry. Not tear them up like Donald Trump says he will do. We need to make sure that Wall Street can never wreck Main Street again. Four, we are gonna make sure that Wall Street Corporations and the superrich pay their fair share of taxes. It is just playing wrong that a millionaire can pay a lower tax rate than their secretaries. And we are going to stop it, and oh, by the way, we are gonna keep asking to see Donald Trump's tax rate charts. And finally we are going to step up and respond to the way American families actually live and work in the 21st century. Our families, our work places have changed. So isn't a time that our policies change too?

Now some of you might remember that he and I competed against each other as hard as we could back 2008. But when it was over, I was proud to endorse him and campaign for him. And I will never forget when he called me the Sunday after the election asking me to come to Chicago. It turned out he wanted me to be Secretary of State and I don't think anybody saw that coming especially me. And as I travelled on behalf of our country, a lot of people would ask me how president Obama and I could work so well together after being such fierce competitors. In some places, you know, the person who loses an election gets exiled or executed, not asked to be Secretary of State. But president Obama asked me to serve and I accepted. You know why? We both love our country!

That is how democracy is supposed to work. We just celebrated 240 years of our Independence. In America, we put common interest before self interest. We stand together, because we know we are stronger together. That is the kind of president Barack Obama has been. He's made difficult, even unpopular decisions for the good of our country. I've sat with him in the situation room and seen him make the hardest choices a president faces. He does it with steady, principle leadership. He says statesman leading not just our country, but the entire world. It was his vision. It was his vision and diplomacy that secured a historic global agreement on climate change, put a lid on Iran's nuclear program, opened up Cuba and rallied the world to curb the spread of nuclear weapons. I saw him go toe to toe with the toughest foreign leaders and to give the order to go after Osama Bin Ladin. This, my friends is a president who knows how to keep us safe and strong. Compare that to Donald Trump. Can you imagine him sitting in the Oval Office? The next time, America faces a crisis. The world hangs on every word our president says. And Donald Trump is simply unqualified and temperamentally unfit to be our president our president and commander in chief.
