On the CBS Evening News this Tuesday, the president mourns shooting victims in a controversial trip to Pittsburg. He also claims he has a plan to revoke birth right citizenship. And notorious mob boss Whitey Bulger is deemed to death in prison. Whitey Bulger, the infamous Boston gangster died in a federal prison in West Virginia today just hours after being transfer there. Bulger was once one of America's Ten Most Wanted along Osama Bin Laden. His death as much of his life was violent. Nikki Vatis reports tonight from outside the prison.

The call came in just after 8 this morning. James Whitley Bulger, the notorious Boston crime boss was discovered unresponsive at this federal prison in West Virginia. According to authorities, life saving measures were initiated by prison staff. But Bulger was pronounced dead shortly afterward. He was reportedly beaten to death by one or more inmates. At 89, Bulger was 7 years into serving one of two life sentences for 11 murders and reported to be failing health.

Boston radio host Howard Carr wrote Bulger for decades. "He was just a notoriously horrible, horrible criminal" Most people have heard of Bulger from movies. He was the model, played by Journey Dept in the movie "Black mask", and for the violent crime boss in the 2006 film "The Departed!" "Are you still a cop? No!" But he was more than just a Hollywood character. He was ruthless killer. Kevin Weeks, one of Bulger's top lieutenants talked to 60 minutes about Bulger in 2006.

Bulger who earned the nickname "Whitey" for his mob of platinum hair was a career criminal who rose to the top of the FBI's most wanted list after he had turned informant, but disappeared. "He killed people who he said, were informants for the police, but in actuality, he was the greatest rat of all" Bulger slipped away in 1995 and was on the run for 16 years. He was finally captured in 2011 in Santa Monica, California, ending a worldwide manhunt. "If there is an afterlife, there is no question where he is"

The FBI's office in Pittsburg is investigating Bulger's death. This is the third killing in just 6 months at this federal prison. And Jeff, after hearing today's news, one of Bulger's victim's widow said she is ready to pop a bottle of Champagne. OK Nikie Vetus Thank you very much in West Virginia tonight.
